Systema Software Celebrates 10-Year Anniversary in the Claims Software Market

Company History Includes Continued Product Innovation to Deliver the Best Claims Solution and Ongoing Team Expansion to Enhance Customer Service

Larkspur, CA – August 3, 2016 – Systema Software, LLC celebrates its 10-year anniversary as a leading provider of claims administration software and services to the insurance industry.

"On our 10-year anniversary, it's gratifying to look back on all we've accomplished," said CEO Jose Tribuzio. "Our company has grown tremendously, continuing to add more staff and new clients each year. The key to our success has been focus. We've focused solely on the claims market and on delivering the best, most advanced claims solution in SIMS. As evidenced by the launch of our new User Interface (UI) and Power BI (business intelligence) tools, we've continued to offer new functionality and features for the benefit of our customers."

Tom Jaspering, Chief Architect, added, "Over the years, we've celebrated several milestones in terms of product development, including the launch of our mobile app and cloud hosting, which enable us to meet the needs of today's digital consumers who want fast, flexible access to data and claims transactions. The launch of our new UI is another exciting development. The new UI utilizes the latest web technologies, enabling SIMS to be compatible with tablets and various browsers, and to provide a superior user experience."

Brian Mack, VP of Sales and Marketing, added, "Throughout our company's history, we've achieved substantial and ongoing growth, and with the exception of a limited initial investment, this growth has been entirely organic. Our success boils down to our people. We all share a commitment to excellence, and this culture permeates every layer of our organization. It has led to continual advancement of our product, services, and operations. As a result, we've established Systema Software and SIMS Claims as brands synonymous with superior service, product value, and customer satisfaction."

"Innovation and continued evolution are among our key strengths," said COO Danny Smith. "The SIMS product has progressed with the diligence of our Product Management and Development teams. Likewise, there's been an evolution of the Support and Services we offer to our clients. Passion and professionalism drives our Professional Services team, whose time and resources are all aimed at helping clients go-live, as well as achieving and exceeding their business objectives with SIMS."
