Systema Software Forms Strategic Alliance with TCube Solutions to Expand Offering of Implementation Services

Clients Will Have the Flexibility to Design and Leverage an Implementation Model & Team That Meets Their Unique Business Needs

Larkspur, CA – June 21, 2013 – Systema Software, a leading provider of claims administration software and services to the insurance industry, today announced that it has formed a strategic alliance with TCube Solutions to expand its offering of implementation services.

Systema Software has always offered a complete spectrum of implementation services for clients, who choose to implement SIMS Claims™ as their claims administration system. Organizations can either turn to Systema to manage the entire implementation; they can utilize their own internal resources, or they can outsource some or all of the project management, data conversion, or implementation services to a third-party vendor, using Systema Software in a support capacity for system expertise.

Jose Tribuzio, CEO of Systema Software, commented on the additional implementation option: “SIMS Claims fits into a best-of-breed solution strategy. As a result, more organizations may be looking to outsource the implementation of one or more systems. In this regard, we chose to form an alliance with TCube Solutions. They’re not only a leading provider of implementation services, but they’re also highly knowledgeable about top solutions in the property and casualty market. In this scenario, we would work with TCube to ensure a client has the right mix of implementation resources, project management, and system expertise from both our organizations, as well as from the client’s internal resources to achieve a successful SIMS deployment.”

Sam McGuckin, CEO of TCube Solutions, added: “With our in-depth expertise, we have fine-tuned our best practices to help clients implement their chosen software solutions in an efficient manner and in a way that meets their specific business needs. As part of our services, we frequently evaluate and recommend third-party policy administration, billing and claims systems. Systema’s SIMS Claims is a superior and robust claims management solution. We’re excited to form this strategic alliance with Systema, as we’ll be better able to recommend and implement SIMS Claims to our customers.”

Brian Mack, vice president of sales and marketing at Systems Software, also commented: “Today, it’s important that insurance organizations have a wide breadth of implementation options available to them. Since SIMS Claims has an intuitive design, extreme flexibility, and easy configurability, clients can leverage an implementation team that meets their unique needs. Our alliance with TCube is strategic to our mission to provide clients with a rapid, agile deployment and an overall successful project. In recent industry accolades, we’ve received high ratings from our customers, and we’ll continue to provide this same level of superior support, prompt response, and personalized communication.”
